

THANK YOU TO ALL KEY WORKERS

Clemtech would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge and thank the country's key workers, all those selfless people whose work is critical to the COVID-19 response, the NHS and social care, education and childcare, local and national government, food and other necessary goods, public safety and national security and of course Transport, including all those in our sector, the individuals in depots keeping the passenger and freight trains running; the collective effort by all key workers and the sense of community that we've all seen and felt is truly humbling.

We are witnessing the very best qualities of the rolling stock sector and its people; a big thank you also to our own staff, our clients, contractors and the whole supply chain, your determination to continue to deliver services is remarkable and will undoubtedly help to see the country through this public health emergency.

We remain open to support you, as always do not hesitate to contact us and keep safe.
